

Jason Savich

Partner

jsavich@cooley.com

Debt Finance

+1 415 693 2053

San Francisco

Jason Savich advises borrowers, banks and non-bank lenders in a broad range of public and private debt financings, including convertible and high-yield bonds, acquisition financings, secured and unsecured credit facilities and various structured financings.

While at the University of California, Berkeley School of Law (Boalt Hall), Jason was a member of the Berkeley Technology Law Journal and Berkeley Business Law Journal. He authored the student note Monsanto v. Scruggs: The Negative Impact of Patent Exhaustion on Self-Replicating Technology.

Prior to law school, Jason was a researcher in the pharmaceutical department of the University of California, San Francisco.

Education

University of California, Berkeley School of Law
JD, 2008

Georgetown University
BS, 2002

Admissions & Credentials

California

Rankings & Accolades

Chambers USA: Capital Markets: Convertible Debt – Nationwide (2024)

Legal 500 – Commercial Lending (2021)

Northern California Super Lawyers: Rising Star – Securities & Corporate Finance (2013 – 2017)