

Jessica Williams

Associate

jwilliams@cooley.com

Trademark, Copyright and Advertising

+1 202 776 2204

Washington, DC

Jessica Williams works with emerging and established entities to protect their intellectual property. In addition to her work in federal trademark litigation, advising on trademark clearance and prosecution, and protecting marks against infringement, she maintains an extensive pro bono practice.

While at Berkeley Law, Jessica was senior diversity editor of California Law Review and co-editor-in-chief of Berkeley Journal of Gender, Law & Justice. She was co-chair of Womxn of Color Collective, served on the board of Law Students of African Descent, and was a student in the East Bay Community Law Center's Consumer Justice Clinic. Prior to law school, Jessica worked in social justice and communication for non-profit and for-profit organizations.

Publications

- Jessica M. Williams, "Looking a Certain Way: How Defunct Subjective Standards of Media Regulation Continue to Affect Black Women," California Law Review, March 2023

Education

University of California, Berkeley School of Law
JD,

Georgetown University
MPS,

Washington University in St. Louis
BA,

Admissions & Credentials

District of Columbia

California

Court Admissions

US District Court for the Northern District of California