Scott Dailard advises clients in the areas of advertising, consumer protection, privacy and promotions, and on all issues and transactions relating to the collection and use of information about consumers. He counsels clients in many industries, including leaders in telecommunications, digital media, consumer products, education, broadcast and cable television, energy and financial services. His practice embraces all advertising, marketing, promotions and privacy issues, including the prepublication review of advertising claims and their substantiation, native advertising programs, mobile marketing and social media, testimonials and endorsements, contests and sweepstakes, sponsorship relationships, telemarketing compliance and the application of intellectual property laws and laws governing rights of publicity.

Scott is also an experienced litigator and has represented companies in advertising, privacy, antitrust and intellectual property lawsuits in federal and state courts and in regulatory and investigative matters before the National Advertising Division (NAD), Federal Trade Commission, Federal Communications Commission, Department of Justice and other federal and state enforcement agencies.

Scott is recognized as one of the top lawyers in the US. He is named a "Client Service All-Star" by BTI Consulting Group (2016, 2017) for "delivering superior client service in an unprompted manner." He is also named one of the Best Lawyers in America for Advertising Law and one of the top attorneys in the United States for trademark non-contentious matters (Legal 500).
