Los Angeles Santa Monica

Sabrina plays a key role in managing relationships with Cooley's clients and friends. She manages numerous firm-hosted events and external partnerships – including Cooley's Capital Call series, and the mid-Atlantic Mindshare and DCGC organizations – and serves as a liaison with Techstars. Sabrina also oversees the firm's Executive Connect program, which helps connect our clients' open C-suite, legal and board opportunities with individuals searching for their next role. Sabrina has worked in various roles throughout the firm, and she has been based in Cooley's San Francisco, San Diego, Reston and Los Angeles offices during her tenure.

In addition, Sabrina is an entrepreneur who has started two companies in the tech support and travel sectors. She is a Screen Actors Guild-American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (SAG-AFTRA) actress and director, has taught band and choir to students in elementary through high school, and previously was a director of music for church and community theater productions.
