

Craig Venable

Special Counsel

cvenable@cooley.com

Emerging Companies
Venture Capital

+1 650 843 5642

Palo Alto

Craig R. Venable is a special counsel in the emerging companies and venture capital practice groups and a member of the Cooley business department. He joined Cooley in 1997 and is resident in the Palo Alto office. Craig's practice consists of general business and corporate law matters, including securities transactions and mergers and acquisitions, with an emphasis on the representation of emerging companies.

Craig had eight years of experience in finance and business development as a banker and executive in the media industry prior to attending law school.

Education

University of California, Berkeley School of Law
JD, 1992

Williams College
BA, 1984

Admissions & Credentials

California

Memberships & Affiliations

American Bar Association (ABA)

The Bar Association of San Francisco